St Vincent de Paul Society
Again, thank you

Again, many thanks to St Carthage's parishioners for your generous donations to our recent Winter Appeal.

We have completed our final tally and are pleased to announce that we received a total of $21,350.

Your donations will help us to continue our programs for the destitute and homeless in the inner-city areas, asylum seekers and our in-home visits during these cold winter months as well as our education programs for disabled students and remote indigenous primary schools.

St Carthage's Music Group

Appreciation Dinner

During the week Fr. Elligate hosted an appreciation dinner for the long-standing contributions by The St Carthage's Music Group. Back in the late fifties St Carthage's was one of the first parishes in Melbourne given permission for a Sunday evening Mass. Two priest residents in the parish were chaplains to the Royal Melbourne Hospital.

There was a request from nurses to have a late afternoon Mass as some had been on night duty the previous evening.

In the 1960's we saw the emergence of "Folk Masses" which appealed to young people. Guitars replaced organs in Churches and a modern style called folk music replaced traditional hymns.

Gradually University students attended this Mass and our parish register indicates many students married here after graduation.

For well over thirty years Roger Rassool and his wife Anne have gathered a group of singers together. The group lead Masses at Christmas & Easter and on one Sunday evening each month.

The group gathered recently at Piccolo Mondo on Lygon Street Carlton to celebrate their friendship and contribution to music at St Carthage's Parish.

Moral Theology

Public Seminars

Rev. Dr Ai Pham SJ is Dean of Studies at Jesuit Theological College and a member of the faculty of Jesuit College of Spirituality. The seminars may be attended individually or as a series. Please RSVP one week in advance of your intention to attend by email to enquiries@jcs.edu.au.

The Significance of the Human Body in Ignatian Spirituality and Contemporary Moral Theology (Seminar 1)

This session will explore the relationship between Spirituality and Morality specifically viewed through the lens of the human body.

St Ignatius has a positive regard of the human body especially noted in the instructions of making the Spiritual Exercises. This trend in Ignatian spirituality can support our emphasis on embodiment in contemporary moral theology.

Date: Thursday 27 July 2017

Time: 6.00pm to 8.00pm

Venue: Jesuit College of Spirituality,
175 Royal Parade, Parkville

The Primacy of Love in Moral Theology (Seminar 2)

Within Moral Theology charity-love has been emphasised by Christian writers and ethicists. This theme is strongly reemphasised in Vatican II noting that the Christian vocation is to bring forth the fruit of charity in the world (Optatam totius, 16, 1965). This session will explore how love has been stressed in moral theology, Vatican II and beyond.

Date: Saturday 23 September 2017

Time: 10.00am to 12.00pm

Venue: Jesuit College of Spirituality,
175 Royal Parade, Parkville

The Spiritual Exercises and the Formation of Christian Conscience (Seminar 3)

Conscience is the basic human faculty for living a Christian moral life. The concern is how to appropriately form a Christian conscience.

The emphasis in the Spiritual Exercises on the love for God and others in the journey of following Christ helps to form the Christian conscience to reach maturity.

Date: Thursday 16 November 2017

Time: 6.00pm to 8.00pm

Venue: Jesuit College of Spirituality,
175 Royal Parade, Parkville

Cost: Gold coin donation

Telephone: (03) 9448 8276
