Who Are We On Our Planet Earth Today?

What Are Our Collective and Individual Roles?

How Do We Make A Difference?

"I urgently appeal, then, for a new dialogue about how we are shaping the future of our planet. We need a conversation which includes everyone, since the environmental challenge we are undergoing, and its human roots, concern and affect us all."
Pope Francis Laudato Si'

Sr Gail Worcelo is the co-founder (with the late Thomas Berry) of Green Mountain Monastery in Vermont, USA which is dedicated to the healing and protection of the Earth.

Gail will lead us in an exploration of understanding ourselves as part of a vast unfolding universe –
Calling us to be present in the universe with wonder, hopefulness and action.

"The great mistake, or the greater difficulty of civilization, particularly of modern western civilization, is to isolate human affairs from the larger Earth Community"

Reframing Retirement

Day of Reflection
Saturday 7 July 2018, 10am-4pm

*Facilitator: Simon Jenkinson, BA(Hons),
MS(Clin Psych), Grad Dip Spir Dir*

Does our sense of vocation, or calling,
end with RETIREMENT?

Does the final 'third' of life signal a decline,
or an opportunity to encounter
an unexplored terrain of life ... and of oneself?

And what can our faith journey become,
at this time of transition?

*Whether voluntary or involuntary, RETIREMENT can be a wake-up call, summoning us
to reframe our vision and our purpose.*

Cost $60

This is an out standing book.

Engaging with brilliant analysis.

It tracks the life of Paul a Jew who really was the first Christian Theologian.

Wright is easy to read, clear and clever in his imaginative analysis.

Even as a biography, from the time of his life in Tarsus, onto Jerusalem and then the Damascus Road and later into modern day Turkey, Greece and Rome. The tensions in the early Christian communities are captured so well.

Even if you get lost in a bit of theology, it is well worth the read to see how this remarkable convert to Christianity travelled and lived.
