TRANSFORMING LIVES ABROAD and AT HOME

“Give a person a fish, you feed them for a day; teach them to fish, you feed them for life”. SIMON COSTA, AO, left high corporate material success in his mid-forties to re-focus on pursuing meaningful significance. He applied his humanitarian and philanthropic zeal and his formidable skills in sub-Saharan Africa for several years as full-time volunteer advisor with the U.N.'s World Food Program, transforming the lives of literally many hundreds of thousands of families. He received the UN's award for the Most Effective Program ever.

At home in Australia, both before and after this, he has devoted his life to many causes. As Chief Operating Officer of the Costa Group of Companies (32 business units, 13,000 people), he had jointly founded the “Character First” program of leadership across the whole Group. In 2019, after UN, he founded “Inspiring Leader”, to develop exceptional leaders in business, donating all professional fees to causes in developing countries, especially violence against women and girls. In the same year, he became Chairman of the Bluearth Foundation, which is dedicated to improving the health of children through mindfulness and physical activity.
