Reconciliation Week: an invitation to be brave and tackle the unfinished business of reconciliation for the benefit of all Australians. Here's a date for your diaries: the weekend of 25-26 June marks the 175th anniversary of the Diocese of Melbourne! Archbishop Peter A Comensoli will celebrate a special 11am Mass at St Patrick's Cathedral, with specially-commissioned music by local Indigenous artists and the various migrant communities that now call Melbourne home

FAREWELL On behalf of St Carthage's Parish, we would like to farewell and wish the very best to John and Margret May on their new endeavours. After moving to Geelong five years ago, the weekly trek to Melbourne every Sunday post-Covid has become more and more difficult. "We've felt very much at home in the St Carthage's congregation for the 10+ years we've been back in Melbourne, but all good things come to an end and now we feel it's time to move on." We sincerely thank John and Margret whole-heartedly for all their generosity in the parish over many years.

Warmest congratulations to parishioner Mark Perica, appointed Member of the Order of Australia (AM) in the Queen's Birthday honours for services to the law and to industrial relations. Apart from his indefatigable work internationally for the ILO and nationally for worker rights and labour reform, Mark has been a generous and thoughtful contributor to the parish's growth through work on the Council, on its Constitution and with wise advice.

Dear friends in the SIP COMMUNITY Thank you to all who replied to our recent review. The replies were mixed: the cold weather is a problem for some; for others it depends on the speaker/presenter/topic. So we have decided to try out something different. We plan to go ahead with Tuesday 28th June and meet for dinner at 6.00pm at the Hampton RSL Club, 25 Holyrood Street Hampton. No speaker, instead come prepared to have a conversation with others about what has been nurturing our spirit over these past months. A book, a poem, an experience, a lecture, even a zoom webinar – or even something else entirely! We plan to book for about 10-12 people in the normal dining room. Should you wish to join, please reply
